It Is an Error of Speech to Call All Piano Players "Pianolas"

The word "Pianola" is a trade-mark—the name of one especial instrument, made only by The Aeolian Company. The Pianola is in many, many ways radically different from any other piano player ever made.

The error of calling all plano players "Planolas" works an injustice, not alone to the Pianola itself, but chiefly to the possible purchaser.

For in buying a piano player-or a piano with a player built into it-one wants the best player. the player that leads in public esteem, the player that is indorsed by musical authorities. It is the Pianola that most people have in mind as being the player they want-for the Pianola is, in actual fact, the world's one great leading player. But some people suppose that any piano player is the Pianola-and thus are led into buying only a weak imitation. Thus they lose those superb musical values that only the Pianola can give. For it is music as the Pianola alone can produce it that gives this player its dominant place.

And this unequaled music is the result of ac tual, tangible, easily apparent superioritiesfeatures that only the Pianola has or can haveinventions effected by years of study and fully protected by many patents.

Of these features, the Metrostyle is greatest. No other device at all like it exists. No other produces even an approachable result. It enables a person who knows not one note to play better than any save the most skilled planists. By the merest of movements, the Metrostyle translates into the music each lightest fancy, each touch of emotion on the part of the player. The Metrostyle is known by all great musinovice in the correct interpretation of music The one great basic principle that gives the Metrostyle its immense value cannot even be imitated. Nothing in any way related to this principle is found on any instrument other than the Pianola and the Pianola Piano.

Before going far in the search for a plano player, or for a player-plano, you owe it to yourself to visit our warerooms and hear the Pianola and the Pianola Piano. Only thus will you realize the vast significance of the Metrostyle, the Themodist, the Sustaining Pedal Device, and the many other features which have earned for the Medford, Mass., Oct. 3 .- President Frederick W. Hamilton, of Tufts College, has ome out with the positive assertion that inmarried woman teachers should be barred from girls' colleges because their

They are on their resources and they face problems that are quite new to them. They are to be trained to become competent and important parts of life, we hope. They need a large outlook and a broad viewpoint. Hundreds of Women Daily Visitors at Store to Inspect the Season's Fashionable Offerings.

An exceptionally large and comprehensive variety of fashions in tailored suits and evening gowns is attracting hundreds of women daily to the store of Leverton & Co., 1106 G street northwest, which began its fifth annual fall opening Leverton & Co. have carried out the idea that a woman need not be wealthy to be fashionably gowned, for the medium-priced suits have a style and qualimported articles are far below cost, due to the wide connection of the firm in the market and its experience in buying. On the fourth floor the establishment has assembled an exceptionally distinctive display of costumes. In beautiful colors and weaves are hundreds of designs for dressy occasions. Among them is one of blue crepe meteor veiled with black marquisette which seems to strike the popular fancy. The bodice of this costume shows glimpses of dull red and gold, rought in Persian arabesques.

Another beautiful costume is of black harquisette over soft white silk. It has a low, round bodice and demi-sleeves, trimmed with gold lace bands.

throughout the winter the latest designs gan, Richard A. Curtin, and George L. in the field of embroidery and lace are shown. The opening will continue

NOW COL. RATHBONE.

Wins Out in Examinations to Command the Cadets. After a week of examinations held at Central High School by Col. Ross, W. C. Rathbone was appointed colonel of the high school cadet regiment. Rathbone comes from Business High, and it is the first time the school has been represented among the higher officers of the regiment.

The competition is said to have been the keenest in the history of the schools. The close race for the colonency honors caused a delay in amnouncing the winner. The course at Business High is only two years, as against four years in the other schools. This fact makes it much harder for the men of Business High to win the competitive drill trophy. However, they won it two years ago. Following is the roster of appointments; Colonel, W. C. Rathbone, Business; lieutenant colonel, L. R. Lohr, Mc-Kinley Manual Training; major, First Battalion, P. S. Armstrong, Central; major, Second Battalion, J. F. Moore, Bustness; major, Third Battalion, E. J. Kasselman, McKinley Manual Training.

ON ACCOUNT OF HOLIDAY

THIS STORE CLOSED TO-DAY.

The evening papers to-day will contain surprisingly good news for Wednesday shoppers. Don't fail to read it.

MORNING CHIT-CHAT.

"M so discouraged," said the sick lady across the street. "Here I've been dieting and doing without candy and eating eggs, and taking exercises and cold baths, and doing everything else that doctor tells me to, for six months, and I'm nowhere near well. I don't believe he's much good."

The sick lady across the way broke down after six years of overwork. For six years she worked in an office where she had to work overtime three or four days in the week. For six years she abused her stomach by hurried breakfasts, followed by wild dashes for the train, and frequent cold and hasty lunches at noon. For six years she failed to take enough exercise and outdoor air. At the end of the time she broke down

And now after six months of hygienic living, she is complaining because she is not entirely well yet.

It takes two or three days to tear down a house that it takes as many weeks to build.

Just why should one expect to reverse the ratio and build up one's body house in about one-hundredth the time it took to tear it down? And yet, how many men and women lose faith in their doctor's because they can't accomplish that miracle.

Does it seem exactly sane or reasonable or fair?

I heard a woman making a very extravagant purchase the other day. Or rather, I heard her telling about it.

It didn't cost her but 50 cents, buf I think it was one of the most extravagant purchases I ever heard about. This was the way of it.

We were on shipboard. The lady's ten-year-old son was sick and the stewardess had advised castor oil "Didn't he make an awful fuss about taking it?" some one questioned. "Oh, no," she answered, cheerly. . "I suppose he would have, but when he starts to make a fuss, I always tell him I'll give him 50 cents if he will be good, so that's what I did to-day.' Many things lose their value if they are bought. Friendship is one of them and obedience is another. The woman who buys her child's obedience instead of receiving it as her due is making a most extravagant purchase, because she is laying up trouble for herself by every cent she spends that way. I was telling some one of the incident and my feelings about it "But I think it was nice to give the little boy 50 cents for talking anything so nasty as castor oil," she protested. "I don't see why he shouldn't have a reward." Neither do I. But that wasn't a reward. It was a bribe. He wasn't given it because he had been good. He was offered it on condition he
